

Task 1: Multiple Graphs

Subject: The chart below shows what History graduates did after completing their undergraduate degree course from a university in the UK. The table shows the sectors these graduates were employed in within six years of graduating and their average incomes.

The chart below shows what History graduates did after completing their undergraduate degree course from a university in the UK. The table shows the sectors these graduates were employed in within six years of graduating and their average incomes.

IELTS Liz

Employment Sectors of History Graduates
Employment Sectors	Percentage	Average Income in Pounds Sterling
Solicitor	18%	57,000
History Teacher	30%	32,000
Archaeologist	6%	29,000
Historian	9%	49,000
Other	37%	30,000

www.ieltsliz.com

Answer #1

Response:

The pie chart illustrates the current status of history graduates from a UK university, while the table provides information about their employment sectors and average incomes within six years.

Overall, the majority of graduates entered full-time employment, and history teachers made up the largest employment sector.

More than half (55%) of the graduates gained full-time jobs. Part-time work accounted for 15%, while the unemployment rate was slightly lower at 12%. Only 7% pursued full-time postgraduate studies, whereas 4% opted for part-time postgraduate education. Additionally, the status of 6% of graduates is unknown.

Regarding employment sectors, history teaching was the most common career choice, attracting nearly a third of graduates, with an average income of £32,000. Solicitors made up 18% of graduates, earning significantly more at £57,000 on average, nearly double the income of history teachers. Historians accounted for 9%, earning £49,000, while only 6% chose archaeology, with the lowest average salary of £29,000. The remaining 37% worked in other occupations, earning an average of £30,000.

Scores:

Overall Band Score: 9

Task Response: 9 - Excellent response to the task. All key features of the visual information are accurately described in a well-organized manner.

Coherence & Cohesion: 9 - The report is exceptionally well-structured and easy to follow. The flow of information is natural and logical.

Lexical Resource: 8.5 - A wide range of sophisticated vocabulary is used accurately and appropriately. The language is precise and effective.

Grammatical Range & Accuracy: 9 - The grammar is flawless. A wide range of grammatical structures is used with complete accuracy and fluency.

Answer #2

Response:

The pie chart illustrates the various destinations of history graduates from a British university following their undergraduate studies, while the table presents data on their employment sectors and average incomes within six years post-graduation.

Overall, the majority of history graduates found full-time employment, whereas only a small percentage pursued part-time postgraduate courses. Moreover, most graduates found jobs as history teachers, while the smallest number worked as archaeologists, earning the lowest income, and those employed as solicitors reported the highest income.

In detail, more than half of all history graduates were engaged in full-time or part-time employment (56% and 15%, respectively), compared to just 12% who were unemployed. Among those in postgraduate courses, 7% were enrolled in full-time programs and 4% in part-time programs.

Additionally, 6% of graduates had unknown destinations.

In terms of employment, 30% of graduates took on roles as history teachers, earning £32,000, while just 9% worked as historians with a salary of £49,000. Additionally, 6% were employed as archaeologists, earning £29,000. The highest earners were solicitors, making up 18% of graduates and earning approximately £57,000. Furthermore, 37% of graduates had unknown employment status, with an estimated salary of around £30,000.

Scores:

Overall Band Score: 9

Task Response: 9 - Excellent response to the task. All key information is presented accurately and comprehensively.

Coherence & Cohesion: 9 - The report is very well-organized and easy to follow. The information is presented logically and smoothly.

Lexical Resource: 8.5 - A wide range of vocabulary is used accurately and appropriately. The language is sophisticated and natural.

Grammatical Range & Accuracy: 9 - The report demonstrates excellent grammatical accuracy and a wide range of grammatical structures.

Answer #3

Response:

The pie chart illustrates the various destinations of history graduates from a British university following their undergraduate studies, while the table presents data on their employment sectors and average incomes within six years post-graduation.

Overall, the majority of history graduates found full-time employment, whereas only a small percentage pursued part-time postgraduate courses. Moreover, most graduates found jobs as history teachers, while the smallest number worked as archaeologists earning the lowest income, and those employed as solicitors reported the highest income.

In detail, more than half of all history graduates were engaged in full-time or part-time employment 56% and 15%, respectively, compared to just 12% who were unemployed. Among those in postgraduate courses, 7% were enrolled in full-time programs and 4% in part-time programs.

Additionally, 6% of graduates had unknown destinations.

In terms of employment, 30% of graduates took on roles as history teachers, earning £32,000, while just 9% worked as historians with a salary of £49,000. Additionally, 6% were employed as archaeologists, earning £29,000. The highest earners were solicitors, making up 18% of graduates and earning approximately £57,000. Furthermore, 37% of graduates had unknown employment status, with an estimated salary of around £30,000.

Scores:

Overall Band Score: 9

Task Response: 9 - Excellent response to the task. All key information is presented accurately and comprehensively.

Coherence & Cohesion: 9 - The report is very well-organized and easy to follow. The information is presented logically and smoothly.

Lexical Resource: 8.5 - A wide range of vocabulary is used accurately and appropriately. The language is sophisticated and natural.

Grammatical Range & Accuracy: 9 - The report demonstrates excellent grammatical accuracy and a wide range of grammatical structures.

Answer #4

Response:

The pie chart illustrates the various destinations of history graduates from a British university following their undergraduate studies, while the table presents data on their employment sectors and average incomes within six years post-graduation.

Overall, the majority of history graduates found full-time employment, whereas only a small percentage pursued part-time postgraduate courses. Moreover, most graduates found jobs as history teachers, while the smallest number worked as archaeologists earning the lowest income, and those employed as solicitors reported the highest income.

In detail, more than half of all history graduates were engaged in full-time or part-time employment 56% and 15%, respectively, compared to just 12% who were unemployed. Among those in postgraduate courses, 7% were enrolled in full-time programs and 4% in part-time programs.

Additionally, 6% of graduates had unknown destinations.

In terms of employment, 30% of graduates took on roles as history teachers, earning £32,000, while just 9% worked as historians with a salary of £49,000. Additionally, 6% were employed as archaeologists, earning £29,000. The highest earners were solicitors, making up 18% of graduates and earning approximately £57,000. Furthermore, 37% of graduates had unknown employment status, with an estimated salary of around £30,000.

Scores:

Overall Band Score: 9

Task Response: 9 - Excellent response to the task. All key information is presented accurately and comprehensively.

Coherence & Cohesion: 9 - The report is very well-organized and easy to follow. The information is presented logically and smoothly.

Lexical Resource: 8.5 - A wide range of vocabulary is used accurately and appropriately. The language is sophisticated and natural.

Grammatical Range & Accuracy: 9 - The report demonstrates excellent grammatical accuracy and a wide range of grammatical structures.